People don't know he's lonely, sometimes he's blue
They don't see him layin' awake figurin' out what to do People don't know he spends his life lookin' for a place to go

One thing everybody know, he's just a Regular Joe (Chorus)

There he goes drivin' his car just like me and you He ought to have someplace special to go, particular things to do

People don't know he's leavin' town, people don't know why

They don't know he'll be back in a week, days'll just slip by People don't know nothing about him, that don't matter though

Because one thing everybody knows, he's just a Regular Joe

No one knows from nine to five he works as hard as he can

No one knows he's happy tonight makin' his weekend plans

Nobody knows he'd be content if only had a little more dough

One thing everybody knows, he's just a Regular Joe (Chorus)
