

Misprint

"Another Broken Promise"

Visit "Another Broken Promise" on MotoLyrics.com

the night has just begun the streets are filled with searching people that man is left alone staring back to friends he thought he knew he slowly starts to walk the pain is growing he can't take it

things did change
but still it is the same
friends get hurt
but no one is to blame
time has passed
but the troubles seem to stay
things don't end
but no one really cares

the rain has started to fall his feet are getting way too heavy he's looking back again things he never thought could be were true peering through the rain his eyes will never shine again

things did change
but still it is the same
friends get hurt
but no one is to blame
time has passed
but the troubles seem to stay
things don't end
but no one really cares

Visit Misprint page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.