Sometimes we hurt so much it's hard to wake up with the weight of the world held on your chest feels hard to breath Sometimes we cut just to feel and pray for the strength to push down this time for real unchain yourself you can be free you can be

There's more than one way out of this it's time to wake up wake up now It doesn't have to end like this its time to get up get up now

Break down break out your gonna make it through your gonna make it out of this Break down break out
your gonna make it through
your gonna make it out of this

Sometimes we rise and fall you lose what you got and your losing control there's hope for you there's hope my friend regrets we all have them mistakes we've made and there's light at the end

It doesn't have to end like this
its time to get up get up now

your gonna make it through
your gonna make it out of this
Break down break out
your gonna make it through
your gonna make it out of this

Holding on we're holding on we're holding on today

Break down break out
your gonna make it through
your gonna make it out of this
Break down break out
your gonna make it through
