If time were frozen would you melt it away would you take another day or would you remember all you missing

This heart is broken there's a fear it'll never pass would you make the moment last photograph all that your thinking

I'm lying in this bed
try to remember
everything you said

And everyday
your heart's slipping away
can you please hold on I know your gonna make it

And everyday
your time's slipping away
can you please hold on I know your gonna make it

Rewind playback and do it all once more memories of when before we thought time was never fleeting

Pace make this heart until it never beats again just to keep you here till then if there's a hope i will believe in

I'm lying in this bed

your heart's slipping away
can you please hold on I know your gonna make it

And everyday
can you please hold on I know your gonna make it

I never had the chance to say it i'll miss you your gonna make it

And everyday

And everyday
can you please hold on I know your gonna make it
