There was a time I thought our love would last
But clinging to the past, it's a fools game
I guess, I've got myself to blame

If I knew then what I know now
I'd never let you go, let you know
How much I love you so

Until the six turns into nine
Until the clock stops ticking time
Until the Lord calls out my name
Just wanna live in this April rain

(Oh rain, oh rain)
Just let me live in this April rain
(Oh rain, oh rain)
I wanna live in your April rain

No one here but me and your memories
A ghost that keeps haunting me with your eyes
Once that always made me cry

As I sit here in this quiet room
Smell of your sweet perfume
That's all that's left
One that smells like angel's breath

Until the six turns into nine
Until the clock stops ticking time
Until the Lord calls out my name
Just wanna love in your April rain

Until the stars turn out their lights
When everything that's wrong is right

Tell me, my love was not in vain
Just let me cry in your April rain

(Oh rain, oh rain)
Just let me cry in your April rain
(Oh rain, oh rain)
Please, let me cry in this April rain

All I have now are the photographs
But photographs fade away with time
And all I have left to say is

Until the six turns into nine
Until the clock stops ticking time
Until the Lord calls out my name
Just wanna be in this April rain

Until the stars turn out their lights
When every thing that's wrong is right
Tell me, I'm not going insane
Just let me die in your April rain

(Oh rain, oh rain)
Just let me cry in your April rain
(Oh rain, oh rain)
I wanna live, wanna be, wanna cry

(Oh rain, oh rain)
Just let me cry in your April rain
(Oh rain, oh rain)
Please, let me be in your April rain

(Oh rain, oh rain)
Please, let me pray in the April rain
(Oh rain, oh rain)
Please, let me be in this April rain
