Do you want me, baby?
Could you take this heart and make it alright?
Could you make me smile?
Could you hold me close, hold me tight?

I can't believe the way that I feel
I never thought that love could be real
And the things I see in your eyes
I know, I know I can hold

Give me your hot-battered soul
Give me your hot-battered soul

Can you touch me, baby?
Can you reach for me through these iron bars?
Take away the pain
That broken dreams have left on my heart
I can't believe the way that I feel
You know the thoughts that I try to conceal
And the things I see in your eyes
They take away the cold

Give me your hot-battered soul
Give me your hot-battered soul

O baby, please break
These chains around my heart
And then maybe
You and me will be free

Don't leave me, baby
'Cause if you go then what would I do
I'll never be, baby
The man that you think I am

I can't believe the way that I feel
I never thought that love could be real
And the things I see in your eyes
I know, I know for sure I can hold
