Pull back the shield between us
And I'll kiss you
Drop your defences and come
into my arms

I'm all for believing, (I'm all for believing)

I'm all for believing if you can reveal
Your true colors within

I know your blanket your mind,
So much that I'm blind.
But I see you painted your soul into your guard

I'm all for believing, (I'm all for believing)

I need to know just how you feel
To comfort you
I need to find the key to let me in
Into your heart, to find your soul

Pull back the shield between us
And I'll kiss you
Drop your defences and come
into my arms

I'm all for believing if you can reveal
Your true colors within Say you will be there for me to hold when the faith grows old and light turns cold

Faith grows old, (Im all for believing) light turns cold, (Im all for believing)
Faith grows old, (Im all for believing-----)
Light turns cold,
Faith grows old, (Just believe-----)
Light turns cold
