Sweet lemonade on ice, chocolate cake piled high

Icing flick upon the fingers of the birthday boy

He blew out all the candles, got his wish within the hour

A shiny new guitar his daddy bought him

And I watched him run around, gettin dizzy falling down

Oh I wish how I could join him

I want to giggle like the children, be silly for a while

Silly like the fools we are

Oh ignorance was blissinâ€™™, it was easy to believe

Momma and Daddy were invincible, America was beautiful

From sea to shining sea, No slavery, No slaughtering of the buffalo

The world was black and white

Couldnâ€™™ t sleep on Christmas night

And all my doggies went to heaven

Oh Oh Oo

I want to giggle like the children, be silly for a while

Silly like the fools we are

Come on lets giggle like the children, Childrenâ€™™ s all we are

Letâ€™™ s be silly like the fools we are

Who are we, to be so bold

To think we are as wise as we are old

The more I see here

The more I'm certain, I'm blind

Through the forest and the fields

Down the mountains through the hills

The more I see here,

The more I'm certain I'm blind

Well I read a lot of books

You know I took a lot of class

Philosophy, Religion, Sociology

I'm a presidential scholar, I got a presidential seal

On the degree collecting dust down in the basement

Well I'm given up the search

You know I'm going back to Church

Give me Law and give me scripture

Give me Jesus

I want to giggle like the children, be silly for a while

Come on lets giggle like the children, children's all we are

Let's be silly like the fools we are

Yeah lets giggle like the children, Make a wish upon a star

And awe and wonder like the fools we are

Oh oh oh oh
