Will You take me up to rose hill When you lay my body low wrap me in a flag and throw some flowers on the ground say a few words and then let me go, there's no need to defend my honor or justify the life i gave there's no need for the pictures of my happy childhood there please don't pour salt upon my grave i knew long ago that i would be the one to brandish my sword should they beat those battle drums, ohhh

I stood my ground
i stood for something,
worth falling for

Ask my father to forgive me, i know he didn't understand he worked to hard for way to many years to lose his boy in a foreign sand there is no doubt he is angry, theres no doubt where he'll place the blame but don't let him fall apart mama, don't let him go back to those pills only time will ease the pain, i died a patriot a soldier just like him fought like he taught me to until the very end, ohh

worth falling for yeah yeah

i hope this war is worth dying for
i hope this war is worth dying for
i hope this war is worth dying for

Take my strips and take my medals take my cross and these dogtags too put em in a package stained with your tears send em up to pennsylvania ave my last regards to the man in charge let him know i served my country well yeah he was right behind me all the way to kandahar the night my broken body fell don't let a day go by without a peaceful prayer for my brothers and my sisters still fighting over there they stand their ground they stand for something worth falling for x2

i hope this war is worth dying for
i hope this war is worth dying for
