to forget you had to fall asleep subconsciously fly to the universe of schizophrenic visions there were no trees in this garden that would let us nestle in arms of the shadow there were no walls in this house that would let us hide in corner like the spider there's no mercy in paradise of madmen, vile dictator rules this domain there's no freedom in paradise of madmen, there was no sand on this desert to bury your body, there was no water in this ocean, to dissolve your powdered life to fully understand you had to taste the deceit freeze it with warm coldness of indifferent perversion cold hearts, cold lips, vision of global rape only capital punishment will deliver you from sick habit of necrophilia, victim or perpetrator?
better don't make any choice... there's no mercy in paradise of madmen, you copulate in loathsome trance, dead bodies seduce with helplessness in paradise of madmen, your possibilities come to their end in paradise of madmen...
