i remember the deaf space raving somewhere with silent picture... processions of sleepwalkers, i remember borders of light... moon... stars... burning bunch of paintings, dancing on the horizon... blindfolded by greed i wanted more standing on the edge of my pride, i required forgiveness
i died for you i was the god for me i remember the legend about the medalion, the precious stones
like gold which was the symbol of freedom!
i remember brightness of bold which burned our houses, the smell of defeat and wreaths of smoke of indignity i have been there, i have been dreaming i had a vision of the future, i saw everything but i do not remember who i was? i dont know! now i am an element of the puzzle,
called universe! i am the part, i am the memory!
