Maybe the time has come for me to make my final bow,
Before the spotlight flickers out Im gonna make my way some how.

The clowns and gestures, there makeup smeared with tears,

All i got is this electric guitar and one last case of beers.

Nobody can tell me now, That im to fat to rock and roll.
Nobody can tell me now, That im to fat to rock and roll!

Im gonna get a jelly donut and ride into the night Chew on a bucket of chicken, While your riding on your motor bike,

You know i love you babe, I didnt mean to cause you
pain,

But i needed another sausage and a double order of chowmein.

You know i love you babe, and im never gonna push
you away,

but you shouldnt have tried to make me choose between you and the italian buffet!

And nobody can tell me now, That im to fat to rock and roll.

Nobody can tell me now, That im to fat to rock and roll!
