On the left weighing in 170 pounds
Is yesterday's winner but he's wearing a frown
I don't think this is what it's meant to be
But I'll go another round just to make you see
On the right side hey, take a look over there
She's back in the ring and she doesn't care
She won't back down and neither will he Look what they're doing to the family.
And the flowers that I gave you don't mean a thing
I'm not sorry for the fight and not giving in
It's crazy how we both know right from wrong
But we won't back down 'till the love is gone
It's so easy to pick up on the little things
Were starting round two and the old bell rings
I wonder who the champ will be this time
The old dog's howling and the baby's crying
And the only ones that stand to gain
Are the Devil and the Lawyer and they're watching the game
The Lawyer says it will take about a year
The Devil 'de like to see them end it all right here
And the flowers that I gave you meant one thing
That I'm sorry for the fight and not giving in
It's crazy how we both know right from wrong
But we won't back down 'till the love is gone
