Just wild beat communication
While being pounded by rain
The hot thought never fades away
I want to let it circulate, in my body, tonight!

I hald those damp shoulders trying to warm you up Your trembling fingers wander as if... what are they seeking?
In broken speech, tell me why you want this pain
You no longer seem so grown up as your pretenses fade...

I want to protect this image of you...
Believing in the love that changes sorrow onto strength...

Just wild beat communication
Don't be afraid of anything...
Because no one's going to take away the shared feelings of now, our youth
Just wild beat communication
While being pounded by rain
The hot thoughts never fades away
I want to let it circulate, in my body, tonight!

Until the faraway dawn, I want to spend the night nestled close to you We can lose everything else, as long as we don't lose gentleness...
From words, through kisses we feel each others heartbeats
Drawing passion near for an instant, for an eternity...

Painfully, violently, I want to focus on this...
In this tearful situation, only you are precious...

Just wild beat communication
Don't surrender anything
Because if we both understand each other, we'll be able to fight as one
Just wild beat communication
Don't let go of love

This overflowing, hot face will tell you it's deepest secrets, tonight!

Just wild beat communication
Don't be afraid of anything...
Because no one's going to take away the shared feelings of, our youth
Just wild beat communication
While being pounded by rain
The hot thought never fades away
I want to let it circulate, in my body, tonight!
