Riding on the wings through the turbulence
The wind I know it's you
I stood out in the gale that you blew
Tonight

The waves they could drown me
And the rain came down around
And the ocean crashed into me as I bathed
I could let the water wash the pain away
Tonight, tonight

Angels kiss on nights like this
And demons howl and holler at the moon
I'll be somewhere singin' out a tune
Tonight, tonight

Stars they fill the night time sky
And street lights long to be beside
The moon, I feel it too
Tonight, tonight

I get in at six am
The sun comes up as I fall into bed
I think I'd rather watch my dreams
Play out instead
Tonight, tonight

Angels kiss on nights like this
And demons howl and holler at the moon
I'll be somewhere singin' out a tune
Tonight, tonight

Tonight, tonight
