And so, we'll leave for the West Coast
Leave the lightning and the stone behind
I believe that there's something somewhere out there
Love happens, baby, all the time

Did you see them? There's tears in the skyline
Did you see the blood in the streets?
I've seen the angels turn and run now
Some people always get left behind

Baby, your laughter's like the sunshine
Baby, you send away the rains
Baby, your smile lifts me up now
Baby, you bring me brighter days

I've seen you dancing in the doorway
I've seen you, your beauty and your grace
I'm certain that you're the manifest of everything
I've seen that sad expression on your face

Baby, your laughter's like the sunshine
Baby, you send away the rains
Baby, your smile lifts me up now
Baby, you bring me brighter days

And so, I long for the West Coast
So we can watch the planets collide
Raise your glass now and sing with me by lamplight
This frozen ghosts are just in your mind

Baby, your laughter's like the sunshine
Baby, you send away the rains
Baby, your smile lifts me up now
Baby, you bring me brighter days

Baby, your laughter's like the sunshine
Baby, you send away the rains
Baby, your smile lifts me up now
Baby, you bring me brighter days

Baby, your laughter's like the sunshine
Baby, you send away the rains

Baby, your smile lifts me up now
Baby, you bring me brighter days
