Makes me happy when you smile
You blush right out, stay where you are Every move you make is a photograph

We've taken pictures in the park
Posing just like the movie stars
I can't see anything out of focus

I know that you'll be there for me always
I could take you to a different place you hadn't been before
Will you walk with me just for a little while?
Got something that I need to say

If I hold your hand just a little more
Could you smile for me oh baby.
You're the girl I need, and I want nothing more,
Would you say the same for me?
If I sing a love song, would it turn you on?
You could be my melody
I could bring some yellow flowers when I come home to you
When I come home to you

Local car crash on the news
Call your house, no sign of you
Agitated from this tension
The doorbell rings, I'm not looking back
I fall to my knees can't face the fact
What am I supposed to do?
Oh no!

I know that you'll be there for me always I'll see you in that other place, wherever it is Could you visit me just for a little while?
I got something that I need to say

If I hold your hand just a little more
Could you smile for me, oh baby
You're the girl I need, and I want nothing more
Would you say the same for me

If I sing a love song, would it turn you on?
You could be my melody
I could bring some yellow flowers when I come home to
you
When I come home to you
When I come home to you, yeah!
