It's funny how one thing happens
That changes your whole point of view
Everything that seems to matter
Is cast aside for a better dream

You're growing faster with every minute
Second photograph
I wish I could spend more time with you
My little nephew

Every day's a new discovery
I'm a child again looking through your eyes
Every step you're teaching me
Out of full cried "get up and smile"

You're growing faster with every minute
Second photograph
I wish I could spend more time with you
My little nephew

But you're far away and I'm over here
Memories are lost in the span of your soul
When I go will you miss me?
When I go will you remember me?

You're growing faster with every minute
Second photograph
I wish I could spend more time with you...

See you learn to tie you shoes
Say that skies are blue
And that your best friend is Winnie the Pooh

My little nephew
