Don't want something to believe in
Or I'll start driving through the red lights
I don't belong in the human race
All fighting for the fast lane
Within pool empty silence
Far away from all those undermining
Untie the noose that's always tightening
Till I can't breath

How do I escape everyone thou I try
I don't get anywhere then the voice in my head
Could be true and I'm stuck with this view

Don't want something to believe in
Or I'll start driving through the red lights
I want to know if it's out of reach
To have no sense of feeling
Within in every pool of empty silence
Far away from all those undermining
Untie the noose that's always tightening
Tell I can't breath
How do I escape everyone?
Thou I try I don't get anywhere
And the voice in my head can be true
And I'm stuck with this view
Uh whew Uh wew

How do I escape everyone thou I try
I don't get anywhere then the voice in my head
Could be true and I'm stuck with this view

How do I escape everyone thou I try
I don't get anywhere then the voice in my head
Could be true and I'm stuck with this view
