Words may fuel the power of fools to be used Shadow you cast, longer it gets the shorter you last Back to the wall, now the one that you serve
Has abandoned your call
Desire backfires, you become the opposed
Where you once had aspired
Now you fall from the arms of God
Sins are ignored, the price you have paid
Has been paid once before
Storm has revealed
Clarity brewing now it's you that is ruined
Rise
Death the veil, the splinter has turned to a nail
Light has revealed your soul is beginning to steel Visions have appeared, delusions of death drawing near
Truth sets you free, all along you were blind and your dead
As you fall from the arms of God
Frozen still your freedom is just in your will Blame has recieved now you lost your will to believe
Rise, Lies
You that don't know the God
These are the things that condition the man
Seldom shown the ways to understand
Heart was still beating but you know it was true
Locked in a cage and shown the wrong view
Standing alone like a lightning rod
Sleep tight my friend, you're in the arms of God
