Because you're old and rich
You don't care about this earth
Only about your filthy profits

Poisoned Planet nuclear war generation

It's not you're problem anymore
The problems belong to your You've spoiled my chances and

The consequences to mine robbed me of my time Bodies piled in rotting heaps Martial law declared nothing Mass-destruction empty streets left to rule surviving few Death will soon come to the

Why should we pay the consequences
