

Corrosion Of Conformity "Seven Days"

Over time mistakes were few but I believe they're mine Faded mind youth was old and the years were so unkind, so unkind
Well I'm the one I face the change, I know that stands before me
Believe in me 'cause I damn sure don't believe in you

I cannot deny myself my anger and pride
I cannot deny another lie
Waiting to find another spike right through my hand
I hope, I'm killed before I die, oh before I

Worlds divide, long ago the memories still inside
Chances shine, seven days our fears become entwined

Seasons change our time is gone our souls have grown much colder
Believe in me 'cause I damn sure don't believe in you

Never again are words that echo in my mind
Leaving still holds back the tide
Crucified with lies my blood turns into wine
Take your sip before I die, oh before I

I cannot deny myself my anger and pride
I cannot deny another lie
Waiting to find another spike right through my hand
I hope, I'm killed before I die, before I
Before I die, before I
