Rising sun revealed an angel
My burning heart was overthrown
She came to take away this pain
But what I felt was never shown
So much left unknown

I found the road but I can't turn back
Overlooked out of time
So much left behind

*Drifting away reality
Follow the hollow river
Fusion dreams will never be
Never mean forever
And the path is hard to find
When there's so much left behind

Beauty flows like a river
Drowns my soul, purified
Drift away into forgiveness
Now I'm left to wonder why
No more tears to cry

Words to you were long overdue
These dormant are overhead
So much left unsaid

Gonna keep on moving
Gotta move on
