Blind, product of pride
Fuck, you don't speak for me
Proud is what I am
But I never condemn a man
One race, no way
Nightmares come true these days
We all know this fight for real

Howling like a jackal
Begging to be heard
Growing like a cancer
Beliefs that fight the word
White noise

Pain triggers the mind
This pale solution lied
Time, the names will change
But still these scars remain
More lies, more hate
Your strength controls your fate
Go inside, do you like what you find?

Howling like a jackal
Begging to be heard
Growing like a cancer
Beliefs that fight the word
White noise [Incomprehensible]

Rise, fight
Wrong, right
Lost, sight

Stand, victim of fear
Your voice is screaming clear
Power reveals the need
Addictive dreams still bleed
Instincts breakthrough
These few can't hide what's true
This noise won't stop the way we feel

Howling like a jackal
Begging to be heard

Growing like a cancer
Beliefs that fight the word
White noise

When they cracked the whip, nothing was said
When the flames burned, nothing was said
When they notched the barrels, nothing was said
When the bays opened, nothing was said
When the dogs were set loose, nothing was said
When colors run red, nothing was said
When innocents cried in the face of the guilty
No one said anything
