So can you adapt to the soldiers on the streets? Things aren't gonna be the same What we need to do is get back on our feet And put some justice to our name America's only told one side of the story Have you walked in someone else's shoes? No you haven't because you're blinded by glory If you take a life you're gonna lose

Ignorance wants to see DEATH AND DESTRUCTION Ignorance needs DEATH AND DESTRUCTION

What can we do to stop the arms race? Like a kick in the face Is your hate so sour that you can't taste? Is it because of your selfishness? Is destruction all you see in your hate? Because of your insecurities What will stop the fucking treachery? not a fucking war......No!!

Can you really say you hate someone that you don't know
