The blanket is all yours It's there to give you space To feel the love we offer Your welcome to this place this place

Your humming sounds familiar As if it's always been around your smile is pure like water i'll carry you all the way up and down over every steep Step around every single brick your the reason that once will be big all i see is people
and everyone was born
they're evil and they're precious that's how they are

there's a hole in your heart i hope someone can fix it
there's a hole in your heart i hope someone can fix it you cry when your in need smile when your happy i smile when i'm amused oh i wish i could lay down and sleep

all i see is people
and everyone was born

there's a hole in your heart i hope someone can fix it
