I believed in your love
But it's hard to now
After all that happened
But my heart still wants (left my heart still lost ?)
In your eyes theres always me just shining
Now there's nothing nothing else
But darkness

All i really want is love
All i really need is love
Where are you now i want you back my love

How can i understand
What's in your mind
Why can't you just do, your heart is telling you
With you the first time i felt like a girl
Now there's nothing nothing else
But darkness

All i really want is love
All i really need is you
Where are you now i want you back my love
