I'm sorry

For the scar I have given you

For the tears that have rolled down your white cheeks

Forgive me,

You must forgive me

I'm so afraid that you will leave me

Because I love you so much

When you were not by my side

I was very lonely and enervating

As I was standing under a storm and being hit by the rain

I cried endlessly

I love you, I miss you

As much as you did for me

I promise that I will make you happy

You will no longer be tired or sad

Just come back to me

I'm sorry

I'm really sorry

Also... I love you

I don't know how many times I have sang this song

Since...

The tears never stopped flowing

I missed you so much today

I held your picture tightly in my two hands

The tears are rolling down your face

Now you are crying too

I love you, I miss you

As much as you did for me

I promise that I will make you happy

You will no longer be tired or sad

I believe...

That you will come back to me

I love you

Once...

Just once...

Embrace me please, and for that

I won't cry anymore

You are my final love

I'm praying that you will never forget me
