What I see, what I feel
Will I try, will I kneel?
We're out there, and I fear
Will I find anything again?

Will I see what you see?
Will I bleed what you bleed?
We're out here, and I feel
I will find everything the same

Please, just hear me
..."I try to"
Just hear what I have to say

So I can run to where you are
So I can understand this time
So I can run to where you are for one more time.

So I can take into my heart
All the world and all the stars
So I can see for what it's worth for one more time.

What I see, what I feel
A picture that's not real
A symptom of our hope
And all emotions turned to stone.

If I need what you need
Then why can't we just be?
We're out here, and I fear
We'll never find our way again.

You don't hear me
..."I try to"
Just hear what I have to say.

And I will run to where you are
So we can understand this time
And I will run to where you are for one more time.

So I can take into my heart

All the world and all the stars
So I can see for what it's worth for one last time...
