

Morgan Laurence "Just This Once"

Visit "Just This Once" on MotoLyrics.com

You walk alone at night
With your hands kept at your side
You're smiling so polite, just waiting
For him to call your name
Catch up and meet your pace
I swear he'll play your game

And just this once you'll let him in
And just like that you'll push away again

Don't lead him on
Cos he'd love you either way
He'd love you either way
Don't hide your face
Cos things will never change
Things will never change
But that doesn't make it okay

He'll talk alone this time
Stuttering with every try
Just waiting for her to speak
But there's truth behind that smile
Cos she's a damsel in denial
She isn't all what she seems

And just this once she'll let him in
And just this once she'll break his heart

Don't lead him on
Cos he'd love you either way
He'd love you either way
Don't hide your face
Cos things will never change
Things will never change
But that doesn't make it okay
That doesn't make it okay...

Visit Morgan Laurence page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.