the steel way
You are worth the strain

Just a word from me You aren't worth to be forced by my own hand, no howl your life
It's how you try to release the ability and they get you in depression

Consume your own god Connect the strings

War inside those head to never criticise themselves but it's yours
Now we see any way we can return from the past

war is the way to reteliate when we all discover the lies
No respect for the domination is able to pay this price Stay and way from broken dreams like others try to do to you Just be you and let your feelings come through

war is the way to reteliate when we all discover the lies
No respect for the domination is able to pay this price

Torn our living blow away

War inside those head to never criticise themselves but
it's yours
Walking and talking together is this peace forever Why don't we communicate hunting and counting the million faces we are burning Just one mind, just one way

war is the way to reteliate when we all discover the lies
No respect for the domination is able to pay this price
they try to do us in easy way to drop
To reinstate the domination they had put us up

war is the way to reteliate when we all discover the lies

No respect for the domination is able to pay this price
they try to do us in easy way to drop
To reinstate the domination they had put us up
