You failed me
you failed yourself
you walked the line
starting out so pure
this is who I thought you were
this is what you were always to me clean and precious was your life swept away to the broken path you say that we all change that this was a phase
but this is me forever
but I only CHANGE FOR THE BETTER
I watched you waste away every night, every breath
as the carbon fills your lungs as I smell it on your breath it reminds me of why I am
you have changed for the worse walking the broken line going back on your word
you failed yourself
you failed yourself

you failed yourself
