Religion at the heart of persecution they have divided more than united hate fed by faiths blood spilt because of the one we've gone this far with no progress
humanity is doomed
we must breakaway from these narrow views that divide us away from each other so much devastation caused by holy wars fighting for selfish ways let us tear down these walls of separation built up by the faith of human kind we will never progress with these ideals
they set the boundaries it's time to break them and set our minds free dissolution in his name with no progress humanity is doomed we all are doomed
