This charred corpse speaks no more as the smoke escapes from between her soon to be rotting teeth the smell of burnt flesh is only apparent now she only screamed a little while the gasoline was poured all over her perfect pale figure dropping to her knees in flames all of his pain is gone as her last shallow breath escapes now a black charred corpse remains she speaks no more lies her charred corpse speaks no more
he dismembers her corpse discard the evidence her body forever entombed in a concrete casket sinking to the depths lost forever
no respected burial
and only desolation under water forever entombed
