"Giving In"

Visit "Giving In" on MotoLyrics.com

It's so much easier to give in giving in on everything you hold true you've given up on what was once so close to your heart this is still close to me this is still what I believe in abandon all hope as you go against everything you once were I use to see the passion in your eyes holding onto everything, saying it will last

I've grown to despise everything you've become watching you grow into this from what I once knew you as
this is still IN MY HEART convictions are meant to last holding on to this is so much harder it's so much easier to give in give in on everything you hold true
watching you grow into this
I will stick to my convictions despite the lack of yours
