You'd think we've progressed far enough
not to need this
once used to explain the unexplainable now we are just convinced and enslaved not to think beyond these pages
we've not progressed
once used to explain the unexplainable
now we have little hope unless we close the book fed and told this is the way we must think I can't help but ask why I believe in what I do have you ever questioned all of this heaven looks so grim when the path is paved by hate and ignorance ignorant thoughts against what is not natural to you and accept others for who they are weren't you meant to accept others with open arms we are met with closed minds this has been my choice believing in what I think is right and what I research is true
you cant save me
I'm going to hell
so I'm taking you with me I've kept my mind clear so I'll pay the price if I have to
I'm going to hell
I'm taking you with me
