So here we are again
Sleeping on the bridges in the rain
Under the new sky again
I hear the rumble of the train
Another city to refuse
Another bout of those hopeless wandering blues

You know we've still got one more chance to lose

Do what's true, true to you
Don't let the world tell you what to do
There's no wrong, travel on
Do what's true, true to you

Another corner and it's gone
But I still got a beat up guitar to play my songs
Silence here is tried & true
Only falsehoods would a verbal message do
And i've got nothing left to say
One hesitation would be to waste the day
Onward, onward to futures
Sunny & stray

Do what's true, true to you
Don't let the world tell you what to do
There's no wrong, travel on
Do what's true, true to you

The global money market race
Upon earth it brings it's own disgrace
And we stand laughing in it's face
Pledging defiance to the cutthroats & the haste
With little more to survive
As we turn our paths to the side
For those that will not walk along
The road we have only pride..
Outside....

So do what's true, true to you
Don't let the world tell you what to do
There's no wrong, travel on
Do what's true, true to you
