This is something that I can't feel right now this is everything that we used to be you made your choices, and i made mine I've given you everything and all of my time

You stabbed my heart with the sharpest blade you wounded my soul with never ending pain you messed with my mind over and again i never thought we would end up this way but i guess it was too late

We both made mistakes, but you didn't learn now I'm the one who is suffering and all those mistakes that i spent my time covering you are the one who lost the most in the end.

but i guess it was too late.
