Can I see you for a moment?
Can I sit with you a while?
I know it's late but everything is late

All my life I've been a drifter
That's how you know me too
I've never seen tomorrow's view

All along I hear this song
That something else some day will come along
Late, but suddenly I know what I must do
Didn't see it coming, I didn't know it was you

The days are high and the nights are deep
And I can feel it moving in me
And nothing's like, like it used to be
With you, with me

I may have seen me live my life
Sometimes I've lived for fun
It's easy said, not so easy done

You may have watched me in the moonlight
Falling from the sky
Like every dreamer can go too high

And all along I hear this song
That something else one day will come along
Seamless night to find you by my side
Didn't see it coming, my ever drifting mind

The days are high and the nights are deep
I can feel it moving in me
And nothing's, nothing's like it used to be
With you, with me

I can feel it moving in me
Nothing's, nothing's like it used to be
With you, with me
