Alone in the forest of shadows, without a single path to follow

Surrounded by a sudden darkness, absorbed by the dark mist

A silent voice in your head, the fairies sing their songs for you to follow

Come to me... I dwell in your mind
Come to me... I bread on your fear

Come to me... I want you so
Come to me... come to me

And into the far you will walk, enticed by nocturnal children

Your soul is gone, but not alone, every soul once lost in the dark, now saving the forest of the the lost souls to call for more
