I want you to know
I want you to listen to every word that I say I want you to fight for all that I've mentioned the strain has got me down but I suppose you would know all that leaving brings to the game and everyday you're away I'm losing a new part of me say you'll stay

please don't leave me here on my own say you won't leave me here
I think you should know
I want you to make this my home

I want you to feel how I've been feeling the weight of the all the change, sustained and one more goodbye could be of lasting value to the demons we face

and everyday you're away

I want you to make this my home where I belong yeah where I belong

well I know that you are by side wondering when you'll collide

sayâ€¦oh yeahâ€¦
