we weren't polite we were bad mannered and we didn't give a crap
about anybody's feelings or the property they had too much cash ate to much food and threw away what we had left we only ever thought about the stuff we thought we had to get our education only hindered our social activities we never let the teachers teach us treated them like enemies

we kept on smoking, kept on drinking, kept on bitching bout our health
we chased money when it never came we cursed the men with wealth

kept putting sewage in the sea and putting garbage in the ground
paid silly cash to go to festivals where they restrict the sound we claimed as much as we could claim wherever we could make a claim and then we spent it all on drugs cos life is better when your caned

we were ignorant and didn't care to learn the things we lacked there were wars and we would criticise them then we would relax
we were sheep we sat any fence that had a pretty view and if it came from men in suits and T.V then it must be true

we saw planet earth on youtube and left comments on it's state
as the internet expanded, made our lazy minds deflate grew up thinking we were so advanced and had the largest heads
we didn't even masturbate with our own minds we used the web

we had no tolerance for anyone so then we made it law which just made people more intolerant to everyone they saw joined the army cos we saw an advert saying be the best we granted racist brain-dead alpha males the power of arrest

In my day:
we were spitting in the street
In my day:
no promises to keep
In my day:
all we did was buy
In my day:
cos everyone was high
In my day:
bitched about the wars
In my day:
but no one had a cause
In my day:
never spoke our minds
In my day:
we pissed away our time
In my day.
