Every day I breathe is just another opportunity for disappointment
I'm a lonely fly 'cause all my friends and family died without me in my ointment, There's always someone here that's better than you (better than you)
Their girlfriends always seem prettier too.

Always wonder if the other people in the world I can name might be perverted.
In a song there is a way of speaking but in real life I cannot word it.
Enough to make me wish I could find God (I could find God)
But if he ever met me he'd think I'm odd

All the necessary bullshit takes time and it will leave you feeling weary,
All the things you wanna keep will leave you faster than a new apocalypse theory, Everything I'll ever say makes me weak (makes me weak)
I'd be a mercy human if I could speak

Here I am, I'm on a road, all alone and all I have to think about is I wish that I wasn't on my own but rather warm inside one of those houses There's only one thing I can think of to say (think of to say),
It's easier than never having to pray

(Chorus )

Screw you, moon, you're always shining on me, Even when I'm down here crying, you're still brighter (still brighter) than me.

Every feeling has a price and it's your right to turn it in for something different.
There are no refunds available because the value changes in an instant.
Sadness can be worth as much as love can (as much as love can),

I can't completely blow a hole in your plans.

Trying to kid myself that there is anything in anybody worth me liking
People just pretend to like each other so they don't feel lonely when they're dying.
Motion pictures really make matters worse (make matters worse),
They make you get the pointlessness of this earth.

In an instant everything can go from being bubbly and entertaining waking up to go outside residents serving this because of me it's raining
Seems the world is going out of its way,
To beat me down so it can piss in my face,

When will everything be on your side it seems to be on everybody else's Then you start to act like you're a kid but it is dangerous; you're pissed and helpless.
What's the point in being out of the wild? (out of the wild?)
At least for now I'll schedule a smile.

(chorus)
