I've got no head free
To picture you and please
I can't get it on
I just can't get it on
I've seen some tender fingers on 7
I hear a tender voice from behind
I can't get it on
Yeah I'm a sad man's son
Cause somebody drives you
Somebody is always 'wake
And keeps you alone to yourself

She said your life might be rocking
But I really think you're missing a part
So when love comes knocking
Open the doors to your heart
And save it's way home

Another please come back, I'm sorry
The same old on-and-on story
With a painful end
That's when you're losing a friend

I cried some boos and got a bit louder
But when they offer me the powder
I was on the run
So I choose don't wanna get it on
And somebody hurts you
Somebody is always greater
And gums every engines to your lim

And she said your life might be rocking
But I really think you're missing a part
So when love comes knocking
Open the doors to your heart
And she said the senses they are locking
They really need to run for a star
So when love comes knocking
Open the doors to your heart
And save it's way home
You're on your way

The calves they gonna catch me
Cause after closed and pile of pills
I cant't find the love
I just can't find love
The knobs they come to scratch me
While I'm losing my native skills
I'm locked in your arms
I've never felt so lost

She said you're live might be rocking
But I really think you're missing a part
So when love comes knocking
Open the doors to your heart
And she said the senses they are locking
They really need to run for a star
So when love comes knocking
Open the doors to your heart
And save it's way home
You're on your way home
You're on your way home
You're on the safe way home
You're on the way home
