It's been what, a month or two
Since I first laid eyes on you
Did you put me under a spell that night
Yeah I think so cause now I'm bound to you

The curvings of your collarbone
Painted white and carved in stone
Silky dunes for me to roam forever
And forever I am lost in you

Don't release me from your spell

Through the smoke of cigarettes

I see a misty eyed coquette
I've seen those eyes before
I'm sure of it
In my dreams, my sleep, my idle hours

A killer moon is high tonight
And I'll be sleeping with the fishes
If I can't sleep there next to you
I am bound to you
I am bound to you

Don't release me from your spell
