Took all week for the feeling to come
Dry your eyes we're staring at the sun
Want to call I've got nothing to say
Want it all got a line and the nerve to stay

You're keeping secrets
There's only one I need to find

Shaking myself from the hum of the morning
Saving it all for the rest of the night
Losing myself to the drug of the city lights
You're keeping secrets there's only one I need to find

Said it all now there's no mystery
Talked so much I forced myself to breathe
Underhand but it all went to plan
Sold my soul to an understanding man

You're keeping secrets
There's only one I need to find

Shaking myself from the hum of the morning
Saving it all for the rest of the night
Losing myself to the drug of the city lights
You're keeping secrets there's only one I need to find

Stayed up all night for the kids, its getting better
Stayed up all night for the kids, its getting better

You're keeping secrets
There's only one I need to find
