who sat there in the cross-fire all things considered, you should really try got him a spiritual hand that's just a different distraction do you want that now to make him mr. do right all things taken, I could not quite shake it and I should really get out this time all these things have been robbing me while I'm blind looking for the free side again you got so many words you're saying on the rise working away at rotting my eyes who sat there in the soft-light must be the devil, alright got me a spiritual hand to take me away from everything I am
