I wanna know, where did she go
I'm in the limbo, oh, where did she go
You left me Caribbean Blue
I've got the sunshine but I haven't got you
Left my paradise alone
And one more sunset to face on my own
I drawn my sorrows in the garden of despair
Trying to wash away the memories of you there
I walk the beaches and I tell it to the moon
But there's no salvation here
The morning comes too soon
I've got the sunshine but i haven't got you
Left my paradise alone
And one more sunset to face on my own
You gave me so much that I can't replace
Now it's cold and lonely here in this summer place
Scared by the problems of an ego that's been burned
So many lessons now that a foolish hardly learned
I've got the sunshine but i haven't got you
Left my paradise alone
And one more sunset to face on my own
On my own, a prisoner of the memories I can find
Ooh, on this tropical night
I watch the ocean and I search inside myself
What did I do to make you run to someone else
It's funny how we want the things you haven't got
I heard that time can heal but still the pain won't stop
I've got the sunshine but i haven't got you
Left my paradise alone
And one more sunset to face on my own
