

Mouth Of The Architect "Buried Hopes"

Visit "Buried Hopes" on MotoLyrics.com

Buried hopes one day will rise,
Remind our hearts of what could've been.
The sun will rise again.
The sun goes down as days do pass,
I won't forget.
A new day will come.
You will be broken.
And victims, they may die along the path.
A necessary cost.
And the losses we all must face,
Make us stronger in the end.
I will slip the blade deep into your back.
Like you did to me a thousand times before.
You will fall.
We will struggle as I have before,
Still attempting to love you like a brother.
When the vile stench of your blood fades away,
This will be my day.

Visit Mouth Of The Architect page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.