Shake the waist, you got to love that taste
Smell the rain, what a shame to let her get away
Tie me down to the race-car tracks
Smack dab in the middle of lover's lane

Zip the lipstick on like BBQ sauce
Painted lady, got to slip into something that's comfortable
Hey, you can look but you better not touch
Shut down the motors, pull back in the clutch

That strut is merciless
There's only one word to define it
Merciless
I can't deny

That strut is merciless
Worth the weight in double trouble
Merciless
Strut your stuff

What's your pick-up line, I bet you tell her she's fine
If that don't work, don't you pack your suitcase up tonight
Don't give up, here comes a big surprise
More than enough to keep me satisfied

Crack the whip, baby, twist your hips
I do as I see fit, love to lick your lips a little bit
You can run, but you better not hide
There goes the dream into the lights

Merciless
There's only one word to define it
Merciless
I can't deny

That strut is merciless
Worth the weight in double trouble
Merciless
Strut your, strut your little stuff

The last thing I remember
After that hard slap in the face
I was lying there thinkin'
As she turned and walked away, oh no

Merciless
There's only one word to define it
Merciless
I can't deny

That strut is merciless
Worth the weight in double trouble
Merciless

That strut is merciless
There's only one word to define it
Merciless
I can't deny

That strut is merciless
Worth the weight in double trouble
Merciless
Strut your stuff

Mercy
